Next Week's Auction Fourteen Foot Rowboat

Richard Ripley, Jr., Rt. 3, Box 822, Antioch, and Mrs. Mary Topercer, 914, Main, Antioch, were the winners of the two bowling balls auctioned off by the Antioch News last week.

Mrs. Topercer submitted the high bid on the bowling ball—$20.95. Ricky's bid was $20.45.

Ricky bowls in the Junior League at the Antioch Bowl. He's been bowling for four years, and has a 155 average. Up to now, he's used an alley ball. He hopes to do better with his own ball.

Next item up for auction is a forerunner of Spring—a 14-foot wooden rowboat. The boat has a four-foot beam. Retail value is $110, and the boat can be seen at Pacey Marine Service, on Route 21 south of Antioch. Bids will be accepted until midnight, next Wednesday, March 20. Details of the auction and an entry blank are in an ad elsewhere in the Antioch News.

Mrs. Osmond Leads Cancer Crusade

Mrs. Lester Osmond, Jr., Routes 59 and 173, will lead the American Cancer Society's 1963 Cancer Crusade in Antioch. Assisting her as co-chairman will be Mrs. Clifford Randall, Route 3, Box 821.

In announcing the selection of the chairman at the annual Crusade meeting held Thursday, Feb. 28, at the Charcol House, Waukegan, Dr. A. H. Sommers, Crusade Chairman of the Lake County Chapter of the ACS, said, "We can expect a very successful education and fund-raising Crusade under their leadership."

The Crusade will start April 1, the beginning of Cancer Control Month, which is so designated each year by the President of the United States.

The chairman said she had agreed to lead the Crusade "because there is urgent need for everyone to do his share in combating a disease that will strike some 40,000,000

Blaine Ring, Candidate For Road Commissioner

Blaine Ring, 42, is a candidate for Road Commissioner running on the Republican ticket.

Blaine and his family live on Tiffany Road near Antioch. He is a veteran of World War II and a member of the Moose Lodge.

Blaine had four years experience with the township highway department. He has had experience in handling all the equipment used by the highway department, he says, and is familiar with the township roads.

Blaine stresses that he will be a full-time, working road commissioner. He has a thorough knowledge of the roads, and the needs for road maintenance gained in his four years of working on the township roads, he says.

Blaine says he will give consideration impartially to roads in all areas of the township.

Blaine was selected as Republican candidate for road commissioner, and Lloyd Murrie was chosen to represent the Republican party as candidate for Supervisor, at the caucus held in Antioch some weeks ago. This is the first time candidates for these offices have run on a party ticket in Antioch Township.

Shepard Hits 50%! Seemann Blanked

In a brilliant display of broken-down running, slippery ball-handling (the ball was slippery, not the players) and a flash-in-the-pan offense, the Business Men were given the business by a competent team of faculty players last Saturday night in the basketball game in the Antioch High School gym. You couldn't really say the faculty won. "To win" implies that you played against an opponent. One could hardly put the Business Men's team in that class.

The Business Men warmed up before the real playing started in outfits composed of shorts, of numerous styles and colors, ties and suit coats. They removed the coats to play. They should have kept them on.

President Kennedy would have wept if he could have seen the degree of physical fitness exhibited by our young business men. All that talking wasted! Have you no patriotism, men?

Highlights of the game were the superb marksmanship and unorthodox offensive play of "Weasel" Badame. Weasel scored nothing for about 100 shots, more or less. Weasel tried a few shots from the shoulders of his teammates — another teammate boosted him up there—but he still couldn't make it. He claimed the basket moved after he shot.

"Crash" Lubkeman exhibited flashes of speedy playing that left his opponents, his teammates and himself dizzy. "Ambling Bob" Wilton (in a pair of charming print shorts) charged valiantly around accomplishing very little. Oddsen played a supporting role for Weasel. "Tiger" Shepard woke up long enough to take two shots at the basket, one of which somehow went through the hoop. One of the referees made a clean basket from the corner court, which the business men promptly claimed.

The incredible shooting of Bill Seemann, for the faculty, was an amazing display of no marksmanship. Bill shared a complete inability to get near the basket with his opponent, Weasel.

There was free substitution throughout the game by both teams, as the complete team was changed about every two minutes to allow the exhausted players to recuperate from walking back and forth the length of the gym.

The audience was as exhausted as the players as the whistle sounded the end of the fiasco. Laughter is very exhausting.

Oh, yes, proceeds will buy that camera the athletic department needs. And the final score was Faculty 39, Business Men 36.

George Mazzuca, Town Supervisor Candidate

George Mazzuca, 45, is an independent candidate for the office of County Supervisor.

Mazzuca has been an agent for the State Farm Insurance Co. for eight years. Before that, he was secretary-treasurer of the Bakery Sales Corp. He has been president of Golfview Manor Subdivision.

Mazzuca and his wife, Dorothy, have two sons, Kenneth, 21, an insurance broker in Fox Lake, and Jack, 17, employed by Drijle Chevrolet in Antioch.

George feels that the western area of the county is not getting proper representation on the County Board. In his work as an insurance agent, he says, he hears people's views on various matters, and their gripes. He believes that his wide contact with people in his work gives him a good sampling of public opinion. It is the duty of the supervisor, he feels, to carry out the wishes of the majority of the people. He feels that his work keeps him in touch with public opinion.

The proposed zoning, he says, strengthened his decision to run. He feels that the ordinances are entirely unreasonable. He mentioned the restriction on rebuilding a building partially destroyed by fire, located on a non-conforming lot, under the new ordinance, as one of the particularly unfair restrictions. As an insurance agent, he said, he saw dangers in the ordinances which some of the people might not realize. Any change in the present zoning ordinances, he said, should be confined to undeveloped land.

Had the county board taken the money spent on the proposed ordinances, Mazzuca pointed out, and added it to the money they propose to

PM&L Will Repeat "All For One"

The newly incorporated fine arts group, Palette, Masque and Lyre, at a business meeting Tuesday night, adopted a set of by-laws and voted to repeat their successful musical of a few weeks ago, "All For One."

A proposed set of by-laws was presented to the group for approval by Joe Hunley and Mrs. Bill Seemann. Hunley, chairman of the committee, read the proposed laws to the group and after some discussion the document was unanimously approved.

Provisions for membership in the group included four types: Active, Apprentice, Honorary and Patron or Angel. "We set it up this way to encourage membership and participation and encompass as many people as possible," Hunley said.

"Active participation in the productions of the club is open to the public and will not be restricted to members only," he added. Outside participation in all forms will be encouraged, it was learned.

"After someone helps with a play or musical or art fair, we hope their interest would be stimulated to the point they would wish to become members," Jean Seemann said.

In other business, the club voted on the officers for the year. Directing the group will be Ken Smouse, president, Grace Amendola, secretary, Dr. Albert Bucar, treasurer; Jean Seemann, publicity director; Art Doty, technical director, Valerie Hunley, Larry Welsh, George Ollisar, and Lucille Evanoff as directors.

The club's most recent production, "All for One," will be put on again, it was decided. The success of the play prompted the action, it was learned, and the Retarded Children's Educational Society of Lake County will act as sponsors for the performance.

The original musical will be repeated at the West Campus of Waukegan Township High School and will include most of the original cast members. A date of May 3 has been set for the performance.

The group discussed the possibility of holding a work or play shop during the off season. Small groups would get together and read plays, monologues, do skits, etc.

"Its purpose is to keep interest up and improve on techniques during the time when an actual play is not in production," Hunley said. "It would also provide us with a source of material in case a play is needed in a hurry," he added.

Ken Smouse said that

Grass Lake Board Has Another Vacancy

Mr. Harry Jesse resigned from the Grass Lake School Board at the meeting of the Board on Monday night.

This leaves a one-year term on the school board to be filled at the election on April 13.

In addition, there are two full terms to be filled this spring. Incumbents Robert Hart and Charlotte Queen have filed petitions for these openings.

Mr. Frank Benes, Jr., filed a petition for the one-year term on Tuesday, March 12. Mr. Jesse gave the press of personal business as his reason for resigning.

McMillen Addresses NCHA Members

James McMillen, Superintendent of State Parks of Illinois, was the speaker at a recent meeting of the Honolua chapter of the NCHA (National Campers & Hikers Assn.) at Rockford, Ill., last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Antioch attended the meeting, and Mr. Taylor introduced Mr. McMillen as speaker.

Topic of McMillen's address was "Problems and Planning of the State Parks."

The NCHA is interested in conservation and the improvement of parks.

U. S. Army Engineers And Flood Committee Completing Survey

The Chain O' Lakes Flood Control Committee, and the U. S. Army Engineers today made a plea for the return of the completed "Statement of Loss Forms" regarding losses and damages suffered by area residents in the Spring floods of 1960 and 1962.

Several hundreds of these forms were requested by the various subdivision associations, organizations and affected individuals of the Chain O' Lakes and Fox River Area.

The Committee is anxious to complete this phase of the flood program by March 22 and it is imperative they have the immediate full cooperation of the home owners and those who suffered these losses. This information is vital needed for presentation to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to enable them to take constructive action in this area.

The Chain O' Lakes Area Flood Control Committee today received a news release from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers for immediate release as follows:

Residents of the McHenry-Fox Lake-Antioch Area who have not previously submitted flood damage statements covering the 1960 and 1962 floods of the Fox River are asked to complete the statements immediately. The Chicago Area Engineer District has requested.

The Army Engineers are completing their survey of flood damages during the next week. Preliminary analysis of the flood damage data collected last fall and winter in a local campaign indicates that many properties sustained flood damages which have not been reported. Officers of local improvement groups are being asked by the Army Engineers to collect such data or to estimate damages in their respective areas.

Chicago District personnel will begin studies and formulation of new projects as soon as an analysis of flood damage has been completed.

Among projects to be considered are the regulation of the McHenry dam, together with required channel improvements to permit a lower peak stage in the Chain O' Lakes during major floods and establishment of multiple purpose reservoirs for flood control, conservation, etc., on the Fox River and its tributaries.

Consideration also will be given to allied water uses, including water supply, law-flow control, recreation, fish and wildlife, conservation and pollution abatement.

Operation of controlling works on existing lakes in Wisconsin to effect a measure of flood control also will be considered.

Meet With State Authorities

The Chain O' Lakes Area Flood Control Committee met with the Director of the Division of Waterways of the State of Illinois, and his staff on December 13th and discussed the problem of the spring floods of 1960 and 1962. Pictures and hundreds of Statements of Loss Forms were presented for viewing and as proof of the heavy damage and loss suffered by the area.

The McHenry dam was discussed at length and the Committee urged the cooperation of the officials in the regulation of the dam, and that a watchful eye be kept to prevent the Fox Chain from spring flooding.

The State Waterways Officials admit that much of the problems can be best handled by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers who have the authority to recommend the construction of dams or reservoirs that are urgently needed in Wisconsin to impound flood waters of the Fox River.

The Chain O' Lakes Area Flood Control Committee has knowledge of this fact by their own thorough study of the problem and have worked diligently toward this goal the past several months. They have been distributing and gathering "Statement of Loss" forms throughout the entire Chain O' Lakes and Fox River Area for many months and turning them over to the Army Engineers. This information is vital needed by the Corps of Engineers in making recommendations to Congress for flood control of the Fox River Basin and to enable them to take constructive action in this area. They urge each community to gather data on flood damages and request reports of every known case of damage and loss by March 22, which is the close of the drive.

The U. S. Corps of Engineers have worked very closely with the Chain O' Lakes Flood Committee and have had some of their key men in the area the past six weeks working daily with the Committee and lending a much needed hand in the huge task of gathering flood damage data and the needed "Statements of Loss" information.

Antioch Boys Hike 30 Miles

Two Antioch boys essayed the much-publicized fifty-mile hike last week, and completed about 30 miles of their goal before darkness, and a promise to call their parents, ended their efforts.

Jerry Becker and Chip Tanner, both of Antioch and each 13 years old, started out from the vicinity of Sabrina Manor, just south of Antioch. They walked down Route 21 to Loon Lake Road and followed Loon Lake Road to Millburn. From there, we kind of lost track of their route, but they ended up at Waukegan Shopping Plaza.

From a store there, they called their parents to inform them of their safe arrival. Then they started to walk home.

By the time they reached Edie Road, it was getting dark. They had promised to call their parents when darkness fell and be picked up. They discovered their parents were already out looking for them when they called.

The parents picked them up, and clocked the distance the boys had walked on the car speedometer.

Jerry and Chip said their feet didn't bother them during their long hike, but they did get tired. They hadn't been able to believe that one could get tired from just walking.

One of the boys took a pack containing food. This soon became really burdensome, and they took turns toting the pack.

Both boys declared they intended to try for a longer hike as soon as the weather gets warmer.

Spring Is on The Way!

No matter what it's doing outside, Spring is on the way. We're sure of it. Mrs. John Eckert called up the other day to say she'd seen her first Robin. A mixture of rain, snow and slush is wetting our feet and bringing on an epidemic of sneezes. Chicken pox and measles have replaced the flu as the popular ailment of the school child. And golfers, campers, and garden enthusiasts are getting that feverish gleam in their eye.

Spring elections will soon be over. June graduates and brides will take over the news notes, followed by summer carnivals and band concerts.

It's been a long, cold winter and we're glad it's on the way out. Right now, we'd welcome a heat wave, mosquitoes, flies and even the Sunday driver.

But not for anything would we pass up that first Spring day. The day when suddenly the breeze feels soft and warm, the sun shines, the birds sing with a different song, and water runs down every incline. So long as there's a Spring day to look forward to, no-one can convince us that the world is going to pot.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

A conference to be held in Chicago on March 29 will concern a vital and unique opportunity for Illinois to become a national center in the pioneer field of bio-medical engineering.

The conference is co-sponsored by the State of Illinois and Northwestern University. Experts from industry, education and government will gather in an effort to plot the course for our state in promoting this new industry. We are off to a good start already. In January, the nation's first bio-medical engineering research center was established at Northwestern University.

This effort represents another segment of the grand struggle of this administration to inject more strength into the economy of Illinois; to expand home business, bring in new industry and thus create jobs and bolster prosperity.

These kinds of conferences, planning and coordinated efforts are essential to our program and mesh with other aspects of our mission such as the proposals I urge upon the 73rd General Assembly: a department of commerce; a state economic advisory council; a Washington office to enable us to press our case before federal officials more efficiently; increase of the compulsory school age to help stem school dropouts; stronger fair employment laws; and a minimum wage bill.

All of these efforts and proposals spell more prosperity and more work for our people, and less money spent on unemployment and public aid. We can build a great industry in the bio-medical engineering area. It will contribute to the economic development of the state and thus open new employment possibilities for many of our citizens.

In the rapidly advancing Space Age, we must be farsighted and bold in our efforts to build the economy of Illinois and to build the future for our children and our state.

We must not let new ideas and new industries get away from us.

Why Buy Easter Seals?

Lake County residents are called upon each year to contribute to scores of drives for health agencies that are fighting a bewildering range of ailments and the response is generally extremely generous.

This week still another drive is under way, this one for the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and adults.

Like the other drives this has a worthy purpose, but it has one additional advantage in Lake County because the Lake County chapter of the Easter Seal Society maintains a Treatment Center at 1103 1/2 Greenwood Ave., Waukegan, where victims of cerebral palsy, polio, strokes, birth defects, and crippling accidents can receive special therapy treatment.

Youngsters with speech defects are also taught to speak properly by the speech therapist on the staff of the Center.

Some of the patients pay a full fee, others pay what they can afford, but nobody is denied treatment prescribed by a physician.

Approximately 80% of the money raised during the Easter Seal Campaign remains in Lake County for the operation of the Treatment Center and the Lake County Easter Seal Society.

The Illinois Society for Crippled Children and Adults which maintains a program of equipment development, also receives a small fraction of the money raised in Lake County.

Hundreds of Lake County children and adults are already receiving treatment at the Center and scores have returned to work or to school

THE LATEST REPORT: as the local Township campaigns get under way, we couldn't help wondering by a Grant Comm. Bus attended a Kaffe Klatsch for M. Heath. No votes there, Mary... about 40 women had a "ball" selecting their Easter Bonnets at Jane Meyer's home last week. While they sipped coffee and munched on homemade cake, they also added a few pesos to the Women of the Moose coffers... speaking of Pesos, wonder if the Louie Tanners brought any back from their recent vacation trip to Acapulco?... one thing the Ed Jacobs' didn't bring back from their recent trip south, were their suitcases full of clothes. All of their clothes were stolen on the way down. The sheriff of the little southern town has found them, we understand, but Ed must return and identify and claim them.... my humble apologies to Pete Matteoni, if I left the impression he was giving up his landscaping business for politics. He is just helping the local gendarmes out for thirty days, due to Jim Maplethorpe's resignation.... Eddie Haling's ever present sense of humor brought many a chuckle last week when the first thaws flooded a veritable pond in front of his station on Rte. 59, and he filled it full of duck decoys. Many a startled motorist stopped and rubbed his eyes in disbelief.

THE LAST DROP: The Old West may have had a "fast" gun, but we have the meanest gun around here somewhere. I refer to the heartless person who would shoot "Buck," Bill Brook's faithful Golden Labrador, and then leave him, helpless and bleeding, to die.... who knows, Roger Drijie may be going to revive the Old West right here, with the large herd of horses he purchased recently.... at the same time Dave Nissen has acquired an old Trolley Car and is considering a local transit system. The only question is, what can the transfers be to? Maybe Roger's horses?... Nick "Weasel" Badame certainly puts everything he's got into a game when he plays. He put so much into that basketball game Saturday nite, that he had to see a local chiropractor to get it back!... there is a possibility that the P.M. & L. may rerun "All for One" as a benefit at the Jack Benny Jr. H. S. in Waukegan, more next week.

Dear Editor:

The Lakeview Girl Scout Council takes this opportunity, during Girl Scout Week, to express our appreciation for the very fine coverage your newspaper has given us during the past year.

The key words in this our fifty-first year is "Serve the Future." The only way we can serve the future is by serving girls. In our own council we are serving girls—4,000 of them—and we anticipate adding hundreds during the next years.

The key person in this service to girls is the leader. She is the one who gives the day by day service in neighborhoods. She is the one who inspires girls to the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service to get the end results of happy, active, and useful citizens.

Our Senior Scouts are the ideals of our younger Scouts and they too, serve the future through their continued growth in Scouting. The major activities for these young women are service projects. They work as Program Aides in troops and camps, as Hospital Aides, on safety and conservation projects, and in many other phases of community life. They are ready to be helpful with their many abilities, skills, and experiences. They want to serve and do give back to the community a measure of what Girl Scouting has given them.

Lake County is growing. Girl Scouting is growing. Our one desire is to serve girls who will "Serve the Future."

Again a sincere thank you for your part in helping us to serve youth.

Sincerely,
Polly (Mrs. J. B.) Froelich

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

Do you get the feeling that there is a concerted move among legislators at the state and county levels to set the stage for acceptance of a state income tax?

Not too many months ago there were strong statements from both Democrats and Republicans to the effect that "a state income tax of any kind will be passed only over by dead bodies."

Now there is a little backing off here, a bit of rationalization there and a general feeling that maybe a little income tax wouldn't be too bad.

The Lake County Board of review in its report to the County Board last week opened the door a crack by suggesting some relief from the state legislature on the real estate tax burden carried by the people of Lake County.

Various supervisors and state legislators have made the personal property tax a favorite whipping boy and suggest "something" in lieu of this onerous tax on our personal possessions.

There would appear to be two alternatives, an increase in the sales tax at the local levels or a state income tax.

The possibility of a state income tax would be easier to hear if there was some assurance that other taxes would be lowered or eliminated.

We should wait so long.

Legislation to delay the election of a fourth judge to the 19th Judicial Circuit encompassing Lake and McHenry Counties was expected to be signed into law this week by Gov. Otto Kerner, but as a precautionary measure judicial convention calls have been issued by Republican Central Committee Chairman Robert J. Milton, and his Democratic counterpart William Hartnett.

If the bill as now presented passes the fourth judge would be elected in November, 1964, at the same time that Circuit Judge Philip Yager goes before the electorate for election to the judicial post to which he was recently appointed.

Judge Yager, of course, would prefer the election of two judges since political consideration would dictate that the Democrats would slate only one candidate for the district in hopes of retaining Judge Yager in office.

His fellow judges in the Circuit, Judge Thomas J. Moran, of Waukegan, and Judge William M. Carroll, of Woodstock, will run on their records for re-election if they decide to be candidates.

Sweating out the decision of the legislators are several possible candidates for the judicial nomination, the one announced candidate is State's Attorney Bruno W. Stanczak, but Atty. Fred Geiger and Atty. Glenn Seidenfeld, former law partner of Probate Judge LaVerne Dixon, have been mentioned as candidates.

If the legislation delaying election of the fourth judge is not passed nominees will be selected at the judicial conventions of the two parties and one judge will be elected in June at a Circuit wide election.

The county board certainly fired and fell back on that six months moratorium on rezoning that was passed four months ago.

Now that everyone is fully alert and alarmed about the provisions of the proposed new zoning ordinance, there should be enough income from application fees on rezoning requests to pay for ordinance and have enough left over for one wing of the new courthouse.

Do you suppose that anyone is keeping an accurate record of the overtime payment to employees in the data processing department at the courthouse during preparation of the new tax bills?

The new electronic equipment, of course, was supposed to eliminate all overtime to county employees as part of the thousands of dollars the expensive change-over was to save.

And one can't help but wonder if the new piece of equipment added by the board last week comes under the original contract for leasing the IBM equipment.

THE HALF-SPEED EFFORT

When the dust and ruins of our civilization are uncovered in some future century, the scholars will probably call this the "Age of the Half-Speed Effort." More than at any other time in history we are concerned with shorter hours of work, longer vacations, earlier retirement and postponement of growing up. Very few young people plan to start work early, work long and hard and retire late or not at all.

Much of the work in legislatures involves considering how far we can go in this direction. In this session in Illinois there are proposals to raise the age of compulsory school attendance, to establish maximum hours of work, to hasten retirement and so on.

We know that we are competing for survival with the other nations of the earth and that many of these nations are working at full speed. We seem almost to be testing how far we can handicap ourselves and still survive.

Our dialogue with ourselves goes something like this: We know that we can stay ahead of Russia and out-produce her in every way. Can we do it if we work 40 hours a week and the Russians work 50? Yes.

Can we stay ahead if we retire our people at 65 while the Russians accept production from everyone? Yes.

Suppose we save our children from labor until they are 21; can we still win? Yes.

Suppose we devote ten per cent of our talent to the fine arts, while Russia devotes only five per cent of its manpower to this; can we still win? Yes.

Suppose we permit boycotts, strikes and lockouts, and Russia does not; can we still win? Yes.

Suppose we give every child a broad general education for two years longer, while the Russians begin specialization at an earlier year. This loses us about one-third of our productivity; can we handicap ourselves thus additionally and still win? Yes.

The answer we give ourselves is always "Yes," but if the answer is in reality "No," we will be the last to realize it. Sooner or later, if we continue the conscious slowdown of our productive effort, the answer must become "No" and we will lose the contest for survival.

Historically, we have always wakened in time. After Pearl Harbor, it was touch and go for a while, but we were able to roll up our sleeves and get back to work. But there will be no advance notice given, if we are too late next time.

CHANGES NEEDED IN PICKING A PRESIDENT

By Sen. Paul Simon

Would you like more of a voice in selecting the President of the United States?

Perhaps not, because the average Illinois citizen believes he has as much voice in selecting a President as does any other citizen.

In a general election that is correct. In the last election you voted either for John F. Kennedy or for Richard Nixon; for all practical purposes your vote was as good as any vote in the nation.

But the major decision is not between the two men; the really big decision is narrowing the choice from the large field of possible candidates down to the two party nominees. Here Illinois citizens have less than a full vote.

There is now a proposal before the legislature, Senate Bill 17, which would give the average citizen more influence in the selection of the party nominee.

Under the present law, when you come to a primary before a presidential election, you vote for delegates to the national Democratic or Republican conventions. The average citizen has absolutely no idea which candidate for the presidency the would-be delegate supports. Most Illinois citizens simply vote for an unknown name for delegate, hoping that somehow the results will be all right.

Under the proposed law, each candidate for delegate to

Our racer can outrun the Soviets if we put ten pounds on his back. We can win after giving a twelve-pound handicap, but the margin of victory is less. How about fifteen pounds? Twenty? Sooner or later, no matter how fast our racer can run, the added burdens he carries will equalize the race.

We in the legislature have to anticipate this moment, this break-even point. We have to judge how far we can make life more comfortable without risking destruction; and we judge for the greatest possible stakes... survival.

a national party convention would have the right—if he wanted to—of putting under his name on the ballot his first-ballot choice at the national convention. This would be printed on the ballot.

On the Democratic side there probably will be no contest for the presidential nomination in 1964.

But among the Republicans, there may be a fight among the Rockefeller and Goldwater supporters, for example. Republican voters have the right, I believe, to know whether a candidate for delegate leans toward Goldwater, Rockefeller, or whom he supports.

The proposed law makes no penalty if a delegate violates his pledge. The reason there is no penalty is that the candidate he proposes to support may be out of the race by the time the convention is held. But the fact that a public pledge is made would give the Illinois public a little greater voice in party nominees.

Oregon and some other states follow a similar plan. Other states have different systems for giving voters a voice of preference as to the party nominee.

But no state which elects delegates gives the voters less voice than does Illinois now.

Even if the candidates supported in the Illinois April primary are no longer in the race by the time a party convention meets, the fact that presidential candidates are listed with the delegates' names gives the voters a voice at least in political philosophy.

For example, if both Goldwater and Rockefeller would drop out of the race for the GOP nod, voters casting their ballots for a Goldwater supporter would know they are voting for a man who is likely to support a conservative candidate, and those voting for a Rockefeller man would know they are voting for a more liberal outlook.

It would certainly do no harm to give the people of both parties greater opportunity to express themselves as to who the party nominees will be.

It's Spring!

By Lili Battista
Spring is just around the corner according to the little yellow crocus that's in bloom in the flower bed belonging to Mrs. George Stillwell of Oakwood Knolls.

Along with the snow and melting ice and as pretty as the sun itself, it's been in bloom since last Friday, says Bee, who covers the beautiful little flower with a glass jar each night.

It might be a bit early, but that's a sure sign of spring to my estimation.

The Crusade leader said the prospects for eventually solving the cancer problem have never been as great as they are today. "We are now saving one out of three cancer patients," she said. Twenty-five years ago it was fewer than one out of five. We could save one out of two under ideal conditions."

Mrs. Osmond attributed the improvement to two major factors: research has resulted in improved diagnosis and treatment; more people are getting to doctors in time for early treatment.

The educational aspect of the Crusade will seek to persuade more adults to have an annual health checkup as a precaution against possible death from cancer. The fund-raising aspect will supply needed funds for research, education and service programs.

Mrs. Osmond appealed for a record number of volunteers to join the Crusade so that the fight against cancer can be stepped up. She urged volunteers to call her at 395-1038.

"If we all work together," she said, "I am sure we can make the 1963 Crusade a record one in lives and in the funds that are urgently needed for research."

Quota for Lake County in the 1963 Crusade is $49,527. Antioch's share in this quota is $600.

(continued from page 1) spend on a new courthouse, they could make a start toward installing sewerage systems where needed in the county. This, he feels, would be a more practical approach to the problems.

In regard to the proposed courthouse, Mazzuca feels that the matter should be decided by referendum of the people, as should the location if people vote for the proposition.

Mazzuca feels that the public should be kept informed as to actions contemplated by the county board, and as to the position their supervisor has taken on all questions.

In regard to the administration of relief funds, Mazzuca feels that the supervisor should investigate all requests and see that help is given where needed.

"The Town supervisor," Mazzuca said, "is the servant of the people. As an insurance agent, serving the public is my job. I believe it's been good training for the job of supervisor. I'm used to giving service and shall serve the public if I'm elected."

Museum Plans Fund Drive

Mrs. Thomas S. Kiernan, Lake County Museum of History Trustee, today was named vice-chairman of the Speakers' Bureau which will tour the county to sell out the Museum's $525,000 fund-raising campaign, by Dave Davis, Speakers' Bureau chairman. She will make arrangements for speakers to appear before clubs and organizations throughout the county during the coming six weeks.

Solicitation for funds will begin April 24 in eight campaign districts of Lake County. Contacts will be made by volunteer workers for one month after each district kick-off meeting.

According to announcement of Elmer B. Vliet, general campaign chairman, the $525,000 to be raised will provide for the erection of a large, permanent, fire-resistant building; for the acquisition of the Museum at Wadsworth View Farm, Inc.; for the moving of the Museum to the new site near the geographic center of Lake County, immediately north of Libertyville; for the purchase of needed furnishings for the new building; and for the establishment of a Contingency Fund to help meet the first year's operating expenses and to defray the cost of the campaign.

All donors to the fund to provide a new public Museum will receive recognition for their gift-investments. Many opportunities are offered to make Memorial Gifts to perpetuate the name of the donor or another of his or her choice—the name of a loved one, a friend, a family, or a group or organization.

In addition to identification of larger gifts, every donor's name will be inscribed in a "Book of Remembrance," which will be permanently displayed in the Foyer of the new Museum building.

An honorary group to be known as the Cornerstone Club will be composed of individuals who subscribe $300 or more to the Museum fund. Those names will be inscribed on a scroll which will be sealed in the cornerstone of the building.

Campaign headquarters for the Museum fund are located at 1805 Washington Street, Waukegan, Ill.

National Waistline

"Millions of Americans are digging their own graves with their knives and forks."

"These citizens, perhaps as many as 50 million, are victims of their own appetites. They eat too much, too often, and 'too high on the hog.' Despite repeated warnings from health and medical authorities, they continue to eat all they want, which is often two helpings more than they need."

"The situation created by this nation-wide practice of over-eating presents, quite literally, a grave problem. According to findings published by the National Health Education Committee, Inc., overweight is the No. 1 factor in predisposing a person to arteriosclerosis, heart attack and stroke."

"Reinforcing the committee's study are facts and figures developed by the Society of Actuaries, which analyzed the survivorship record of ordinary life insurance policy holders for a 20-year period."

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

BATHING THE NEWBORN
By Kenneth S. Shepard, M.D., Director, Well Baby Clinics Northwestern University School of Medicine

When a mother asks me how to bathe her newborn baby, here's what I tell her: The bathroom temperature should be around 75 to 95 degrees F. The water temperature should be 95 to 100 degrees F or a temperature at which the immersed elbow feels no change.

Soap and water sponge bathing may begin at once. Baby castle and some mild or medicated soaps are satisfactory. Dip-bathing may be started after the cord has fallen off and in case of a boy, the circumcision has healed.

The cord base and the dry cord should be splashed with rubbing alcohol when the diaper is changed. Every effort should be made to keep the cord dry and exposed. I do not recommend pads and bellybinders.

Most often when the mother gets the baby boy home there is a petroleum jelly impregnated gauze strip wrapped around the circumcision. This is to be removed and discarded. Apply a liberal amount of petroleum jelly to the circumcision but do not wrap the gauze around the end. Frequently the petroleum jelly evaporates, leaving the gauze sticking to the healing tissues.

Sponge Bath—Apply soap to the entire front of the body, except the face, and remove it by sponging. Turn the baby over and soap the entire back of the body. Remove the soap thoroughly, especially from the creases and the scalp. Wash the face with clear water. Wipe the skin dry and apply olive or mineral oil to abnormally dry or scaly areas.

The Bath—May be given after the cord has dried and fallen off and the circumcision has healed. Apply soap to entire body, except the face. Put baby in a tub, basin or bathinette and remove the soap thoroughly. Hold baby firmly as his skin is slippery when soaped. Wipe him dry. Apply alcohol to navel after bath for first week of tub bathing.

Do not use applicators in ears, nose or mouth. Foreign material that cannot be reached by a twist of cotton or by a cloth on the finger should be left alone. Wash eyes with plain water and a soft cotton ball. Splash from

It was found that, among men 20 per cent or more overweight, mortality from heart and circulatory diseases was 40 per cent higher than among standard risks. And that's not all. Excess mortality in the overweight group topped 50 per cent.

Certainly a graph plotted from life insurance statistics would indicate an alarming expansion of the national waistline, make it wasteline because, in this case, that's precisely what it is. It has been said before that there is no better way to expand the lifeline than by reducing the waistline.

"But whatever the origin, as a habit, it can be attacked and changed. And overeating is dangerous enough in its long-range effects to deserve an assault. Medical and nutritional scientists have developed nutritionally adequate means to combat excess weight safely and effectively and it's high time more Americans began the battle seriously."

SUBURBAN LIVING

Blest be the joys of suburban living. We just fixed the washer when the dryer went out. After that the radio went dead. When that was repaired the TV blew up. Then we called the plumber to fix the sink faucet. Following these in quick succession came the car battery, turn signals and generator. Now I notice that the switch on the porch light is out of order. Do you suppose it would be possible to bring this whole bankrupting parade to a halt by not fixing the light? For some time now, I have had the thought that each breakdown must wait its turn. If you skip one, none of the rest can happen till it gets fixed.

Team Names Most Valuable Player, Honors Others

Bob Kubicki, senior forward for the Antioch Sequoia and conference scoring champion (this year), was named the Most Valuable Player (this week).

Kubicki scored 437 points for the season while helping his team to a 12 and 10 record and third place in the conference. Bob hit 187 out of 342 attempts from the field for a 49% average. Boasting a 20 point average, Kubicki hit for an amazing 80% from the free throw line, sinking 103 out of 129 chances.

Doug Lang, second high scorer on the squad and leading rebounder, was named team captain. Lang added 304 points to the Sequoia's total of 1372 for the season. Lang also accounted for 284 rebounds, 90 offensive and 174 defensive.

In other honors, Al Gruidl was named player with the Most Team Spirit. "Al has been hampered by leg trouble all year and hasn't played as much as some others, but when he is in there he gives you 100%," Andrews said.

John Hallwas, second high rebounder on the team was named the Best Defensive Player. After every game the coaching staff throughout the season picked the player who played the most outstanding defensive game. At the end of the season the team member who has taken the game honor the greatest number of times is singled out for this honor.

The purpose of this Antioch News is to stimulate interest and enthusiasm for defensive play and give some recognition to the player who maybe, doesn't score so much.

Norbert was named the Most Improved player on the squad. Wolter was the only junior for a team honor and should be a big help in building next year's squad.

With the exception of "The Best Defensive Player" award, all honors are voted on by the team members.

Overall, the squad averaged 62.4 points per game to 60.2 for their opponents. They were one of the best shooting teams in the conference, hitting 43.4% from the field to 39.5% for their foes.

The Sequoia finished in third place in the conference with a 7-7 record, but the highlight of the season came with the winning of the Fenton Holiday Tournament at Bensenville.

Six seniors earned their letter. They were Jim Brownlee, Albert Gruidl, John Hallwas, Bob Kubicki, Douglas Lang and Jim Wetterberg. Junior winners were John Lear and Ed Matejka.

Forming the nucleus of next year's squad besides Lear and Matejka will be juniors Bob Olschlager, Jeff Gates, Dean Denman, and Jim Barnstable.

PROPER BALANCE AND BOAT PERFORMANCE

By Hank Bowman
(Courtesy Sequoit Harbor)

I recently tested an 18-foot fiberglass outboard day cruiser that weighed 875 pounds. The boat was powered by a 75 hp engine. I conducted speed checks alone and with three passengers aboard.

With the heavier passenger load the boat clocked 32.5 mph. One passenger was in the front seat. The other two passengers were seated facing the stern on seats hinged to the back of the front seat. When the two passengers moved to the extreme rear of the cockpit the boat's speed increased to 34 mph.

When the third passenger moved aft the boat clocked nearly 34 mph. With me alone, the speed fell off to under 32 mph.

It may seem odd, that with approximately 450 pounds less weight aboard, the boat would be slower. The answer lies in weight distribution. The added poundage at the stern caused the bow to lift. The forefoot of the boat was brought clear of the water reducing water drag.

Many boatmen prefer to operate in a modest speed range. Yet, dear to all of us is economy of operation. If a change of boat balance at any throttle opening results in added speed, this means more miles over the water are covered at that throttle setting or a lesser throttle opening will produce the desired speed.

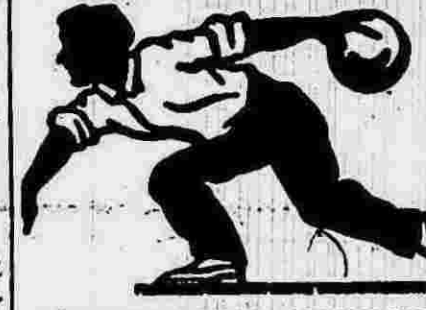

Anyway you view it, the weight shift resulted in a 7% gain. Who wouldn't like to chop fuel consumption or extend cruising range? So whether you are a speed buff or a more conservative helmsman, improved boat balance is desirable.

Try it with your boat. You need not shift passengers around like chessmen.

Not all boats are improved by shift of weights. Some will handle better and run faster with weight farther forward.

A good rule of thumb is to shift weight aft until, at cruising speed, the bow starts to rise and fall gently in a porpoising action. Then, reverse the weight shifting process just enough to eliminate this seasawing.

The man who keeps chasing skirts soon finds himself hemmed in.

NICC & Troop 86 Take Trip

By Harry Stern

Boy Scouts of Channel Lake Troop 86 were guests of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club, Sunday, March 9, on a stream study trip to the Tichigan Wildlife area, north of Watford, in southern Wisconsin.

Led by president Richard Waters, who is quite a naturalist, the boys explored a creek to its source, an area full of springs and they were amazed that there were streams with such clear water.

They were impressed when Waters produced myriad forms of life from what seemed to be uninhabited water. There was the fresh water shrimp, only one-quarter of an inch in length, carrying its one baby in front of it; the case caddis larvae in its home of what appeared to be a short length of hollow reed but which in fact was actually made by the insect, to protect itself from danger. And there was the sick caddis larvae who cemented tiny sticks together to make his home, and the burr caddis who did the same with leaf stems. Then there were the stickle back minnows, mud minnows and others too numerous to name, as well as crayfish, back walkers and even frogs coming out of hibernation, even this early because a spring fed stream like this one does not freeze over in winter. Specimens of all of these were taken home for further study. The boys came upon another stream, which was actually a ditch that was draining a farm and saw how muddy its water was, with no life in it, flowing into the clear creek and there they saw the beginning phase of water pollution. The Scouts will write an essay on their stream study and the best two papers will be awarded prizes by the Club.

Taking part in the trip were Scouts Bruce Barnes, Allen Kriesant, Kevin Jarvis, Ted Soby, Mickey Soby, Craig Patterson, Roger Eberman, Scoutmaster Ray Atwood, Assistant Scoutmaster Dick Harland, NICC members Lew Simon, Bob Svoboda and publicity director Harry H. Stern.

Grass Lake School Wins Honors at Science Fair

By Harry H. Stern

Officers of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club hailed the success of their plan to teach conservation to the children, in the classroom, as part of the regular curriculum, when students of the Grass Lake School captured all the honors in the conservatory category with their exhibits at the Antioch Township High School Science Fair, Friday, March 8.

Judges Richard Waters, NICC president, William E. Brook, prominent Antioch banker, and Richard Kaye selected the entry of Robert Reese and Leonard Rozek, 8th grade, as outstanding, with 96 points out of a possible 100.

Their exhibit depicted two sides of a watershed, one side of which showed a dirty stream, silt laden, polluted, murky and devoid of vegetation and life, except for carp which had taken over the water, all due to denuding the land of trees, no wildlife, improper farming practices with resultant soil erosion and the discharge of waste from industries and cities showed clearly what had killed the river.

The other side showed the land well forested, good farming practices with contour plowing employed, so soil erosion, game animals in the woods and fields, clear water in the stream which was well populated with desirable game fishes and their important and necessary weed beds. This exhibit will go to the District meet at Lake Forest College to be held in about a month to compete with the winners from other schools.

Second place was garnered by Georgia Goetz with 90 points while third place was tied by the entries of Daniel Abear and Louis Schaffer and Anita Hawkins and Linda Pierce.

The NICC, with the assistance of Edward C. Cooney, assistant supervisor of conservation education for the state, instituted the outdoor laboratory at the Grass Lake School in April 1962. In that same year the Club supplied 1000 pine trees which the pupils planted on the school grounds.

This program is paying valuable dividends in good citizenship and the NICC is exceedingly gratified. They are going ahead with plans to institute similar programs in other schools in the area, with Waters and Cooney in the forefront of the campaign.

LAKE VILLA—The Sunday even Lenten service on March 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lake Villa Methodist church will be a Hymn Festival. This service will be an interpretation of the Hymn Writers' understanding of God, his joy of expressing his Christian faith in the words of hymns. All the hymns will be those of the Rev. Charles Wesley, who wrote over 6500 hymns in his life time.

He is reputed to be the writer of more hymns for church worship than any other hymn writer. Some of his finest hymns have been translated into almost every known language on the face of the earth.

During this evening service

State Provides Markers for Veterans

The Administrator of the Illinois Veterans' Commission, Mr. Edward B. Akin, has announced that the death rate of veterans in the State of Illinois is approximately 1,000 a month. Survivors of these veterans may apply for a free government headstone to be set at the gravesite of the veteran, provided the grave is not otherwise marked by a private stone. The spouse of the deceased veteran may secure a matching headstone for a nominal fee.

Mr. Akin stated that the State of Illinois provides a sum of money for the cartage and erection of government markers for veterans.

For assistance in completing the application for a government headstone and for information relative to cartage and erection, the next-of-kin should visit the local Illinois Veterans' Commission office.

In Lake county, the next-of-kin should contact the Illinois Veterans' Commission office at 108 S. Genesee Street in Waukegan. The office is open Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Declaration: Rose Lolsner. The winners of the local contest will now go to Norris Foundation on March 16 to compete with other winners of local contests in the area.

Grant High News Notes

A great deal of talent came to light during the 13th Annual Amateur Show held in the Grant High school auditorium March 2. Jill Larson, a sophomore, won first place in the student voting as well as the adult show with her modern acrobatic dance. The original dance, prepared by Jill with the help of Miss Devere DeRock, proved to be the highlight of the evening, and won the first place cup.

Judy Lechner, dressed in an alley cat costume, played "Alley Cat" on the organ. Kathy Kengott, a freshman from Wooster Lake, did exceptionally well with her organ solo.

Forest Lindgren, with his solo "I'm in Love Again," rated high with the student body. "It Started All Over Again," sung by Ellen Giovanetti and the Martin cousins, Vicky and Kathy, won for them a lovely cup.

Geraldine Gruschow, without the help of music, did an excellent job with "Something's Coming" from West Side Story. Donna Pritts, a Junior, besides having charge of the ticket sale, sang "Where the Boys Are."

The Commercialists, a cup winner, were composed of Janice Jankovick, Elaine Koutny, Sharon Alban, Sharon Gogers, Nancy Pivonka, JoAnn Holmes, Diane Emstie, Diane Zabski, Lorrie Bartlett, Vicki Bartlett, Ann

The Motel of The Future

The American motel of the future will be even flashier and more gadget conscious, reports the Chicago Motor Club.

Guests will find color television in all rooms, two baths, vista vision telephone, pneumatic tube message service direct to their rooms, complete hot meals from vending machines, and parking once more beside their door—even in multi-level motels.

And that future is just 10 years away.

Those forecasts were gleaned from American Automobile Association field representatives—men who spend their days traveling the highways to inspect hotels, motels and restaurants for possible AAA approval.

They noted that ever increasing competition among motels is forcing more emphasis on "extras" such as free coffee, wired music, and message service. These extras, they indicated, will expand even further in the years ahead.

They stressed, however, that a growth in service to the individual traveler will need to go hand in hand with physical improvements.

Other items mentioned as a distinct possibility in 10 years for motels included a free reservation system, a card identification system for cashing checks, electric razors, sun lamps, more drive-in registration, and a turn toward allowing more privacy by eliminating the picture window concept.

One dissenter declared: "I can't think of anything more that today's traveler needs—except, perhaps, helicopter pads and landing strips."

The Zerbians had lived in Lindenhurst at 1900 E. Fairfield Rd. for the past four years. She leaves a husband, Herman; a son, Harold Pote of Fox Lake; a stepson; a brother, Harold Rabus of Chicago; a nephew, Ronald Rabus of W. Miltmore, whom she raised; and four grandchildren.

Dairy Cow Produces Record Milk Output

In the herd of Spinney Run Farm, Libertyville, a four year old registered Ayrshire cow named Spiney-Run Pam has completed an official production record of 12,434 pounds, with 521 pounds of butterfat, on twice-daily milking and for a testing period not exceeding 305 days in length.

The record is one of many being made by an increasing number of registered Ayrshires on the Ayrshire Breeders' Association Official HIR and DHIR testing programs. It is equal to over 18 quarts of milk per day for the 10 month test period, and is 1 1/2 times the national average for all dairy cows.

Channel Lake News

By Pearl Kapell

Members of the Channel Lake School Board would like to have the opinions of more voters on the two propositions which are being considered for referendum before taking any action.

For this reason, the board has put survey sheets in Harris's Store on Lake Ave., in Chase's Service Station, and in John's Service Station. The board wants to make it clear that this is only a survey of opinion. Your signature on the sheet does not bind you in any way. If you do not find it convenient to sign one of the surveys, school district voters can express their opinion by calling Mrs. James Waters at 398-3424, or Mrs. Mary Chase at 395-1575.

A referendum, it should be pointed out, will cost the taxpayers money. The school board does not wish to go to the expense of a referendum if voters are overwhelmingly against the proposition.

The first question on which voters are asked to give a Yes or No answer is: "Would you be in favor of a 10c transportation fund levy for a school bus?"

The first bus purchase will have to come from the educational fund. However, the 10c levy will be necessary for expenses and depreciation of the bus.

The second question on which your opinion is asked is: "Would you be in favor of a 15c raise in the educational fund levy?"

The survey to date shows voters about 90% in favor of a raise in the educational fund rate, and split about 50-50 for and against the levy for a school bus.

The Channel Lake Girl Scouts asked permission from the school board to plant shrubs in front of the gym. The girls will do the work under the supervision of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club and Ed Cooney, Asst. Sup't. of Conservation with the State Office of Public Instruction. The board granted permission. Mr. Cooney has been invited to be present at the next school board meeting to explain the conservation program in the schools. The Channel Lake School Board has voted to establish a conservation program in the school. Mr. Cooney will work with the teachers in setting up the program.

The next school board meeting will be held on April 9 instead of the regular date. Five of the six teachers have signed contracts for next year. The teachers who will be returning next year are: Howard Scott, principal, Mrs. Grace Soby, Mrs. Myrna Jungman, Mr. Andreas, and Don Behling. Mrs. Grace Amendola has not signed her contract.

The March meeting of the Channel Lake P.T.A. will feature nomination election

Heat that extra room the money-saving way with a TEMCO PRE-VENT Gas Heater

Money-saving operation. The Pre-Vent operates with typical gas economy. Fully automatic control system assures room comfort with a simple setting. Heat is distributed evenly. Ideal for coldest weather and between-season climate changes.

Money-saving installation. No chimney needed. Requires only eight-inch opening in outside wall for unique pre-engineered vent. Uses no room oxygen; all products of combustion are exhausted outdoors.

Space-saving design. Handsomely compact, the Pre-Vent extends only 8 1/4" into the room. Ideal for add-on rooms, closed-in porches, breezeways, attics, recreation rooms and sleeping rooms. Available in your choice of three sizes.
